

Contents

Acknowledgements

ii Introduction

PART I

CIVIC ENGAGEMENT, DELIBERATION AND POLITICAL THEORY

29 Can We Make Public Spheres More Democratic Through Institutional Innovation?

Mark E. Warren

51 Deliberative Democracy and Political Ideology: Social Liberalism vs. Neoliberalism

Jørn Loftager

81 Frontline Democracy?

Simon Laumann Jørgensen

117 Dingpolitik and the Expansion of the Democratic Public Sphere? From 'Democracy-as-Talk' to 'Conversing with Things'

Jan Løhmann Stephensen

149 Taking Part, Sharing Power, or Heading for the Exit? Youth Participation in Cultural, Social, and Political Life

Birgit Eriksson

PART II
MEDIA PUBLICS

- 177 The Expanding Domain of Political Contention: A Triple Problem
Nick Couldry
- 197 Members of Parliament on Facebook:
Towards an Understanding of the Pros and Cons of Online Political Conversations
Mads P. Sørensen
- 227 Media Ecologies of Crowds and Participatory Trolling:
“Muhammad Movie Trailer” (2012) and “Happy British Muslims” (2014)
Camilla Møhring Reestorff and Carsten Stage
- 261 A Blind Spot? News Sources, Democracy and Gender in News Media
Christina Fiig
- 289 Civic Engagement by Invitation?
Citizen Negotiations about Public Media Framings of Everyday Life Responsibilities for Societal Problems
Bente Halkier

PART III

SOCIAL MOVEMENTS

- 319 Learning Democracy: Global Protest for (Democratic) Education in the Social Forums and Beyond
Donatella della Porta and Nicole Doerr
- 361 The Injustice Symbols of Political Islam: Rethinking the Global Public Sphere
Thomas Olesen
- 381 Street Thinking: The Radical Left on the Place Protests
Mikkel Thorup
- 405 When the Police Hijacked #Blockupy Frankfurt
Christina Neumayer, Luca Rossi and Björn Karlsson

PART IV

AESTHETIC INTERVENTIONS

- 433 Affect and Effect: Artful Protest and Political Impact
Stephen Duncombe
- 453 Artistic Interventions in the Political Public Sphere: Democratic Potentials and Limitations
Henrik Kaare Nielsen
- 475 Contributors